I am categorically against having these towers installed, whether in Concord and the surrounding areas, or in any of the more rural routes. Once they're there, they're there forever. Once the landscape has been altered to accept these monstrosities, what is next?

They want to construct this project? Have them spend the extra money to execute it responsibly and respectfully to those whose paths they want to cross. If it's prohibitive to do so, the universe is telling them something.

NO TO THE TOWERS.
